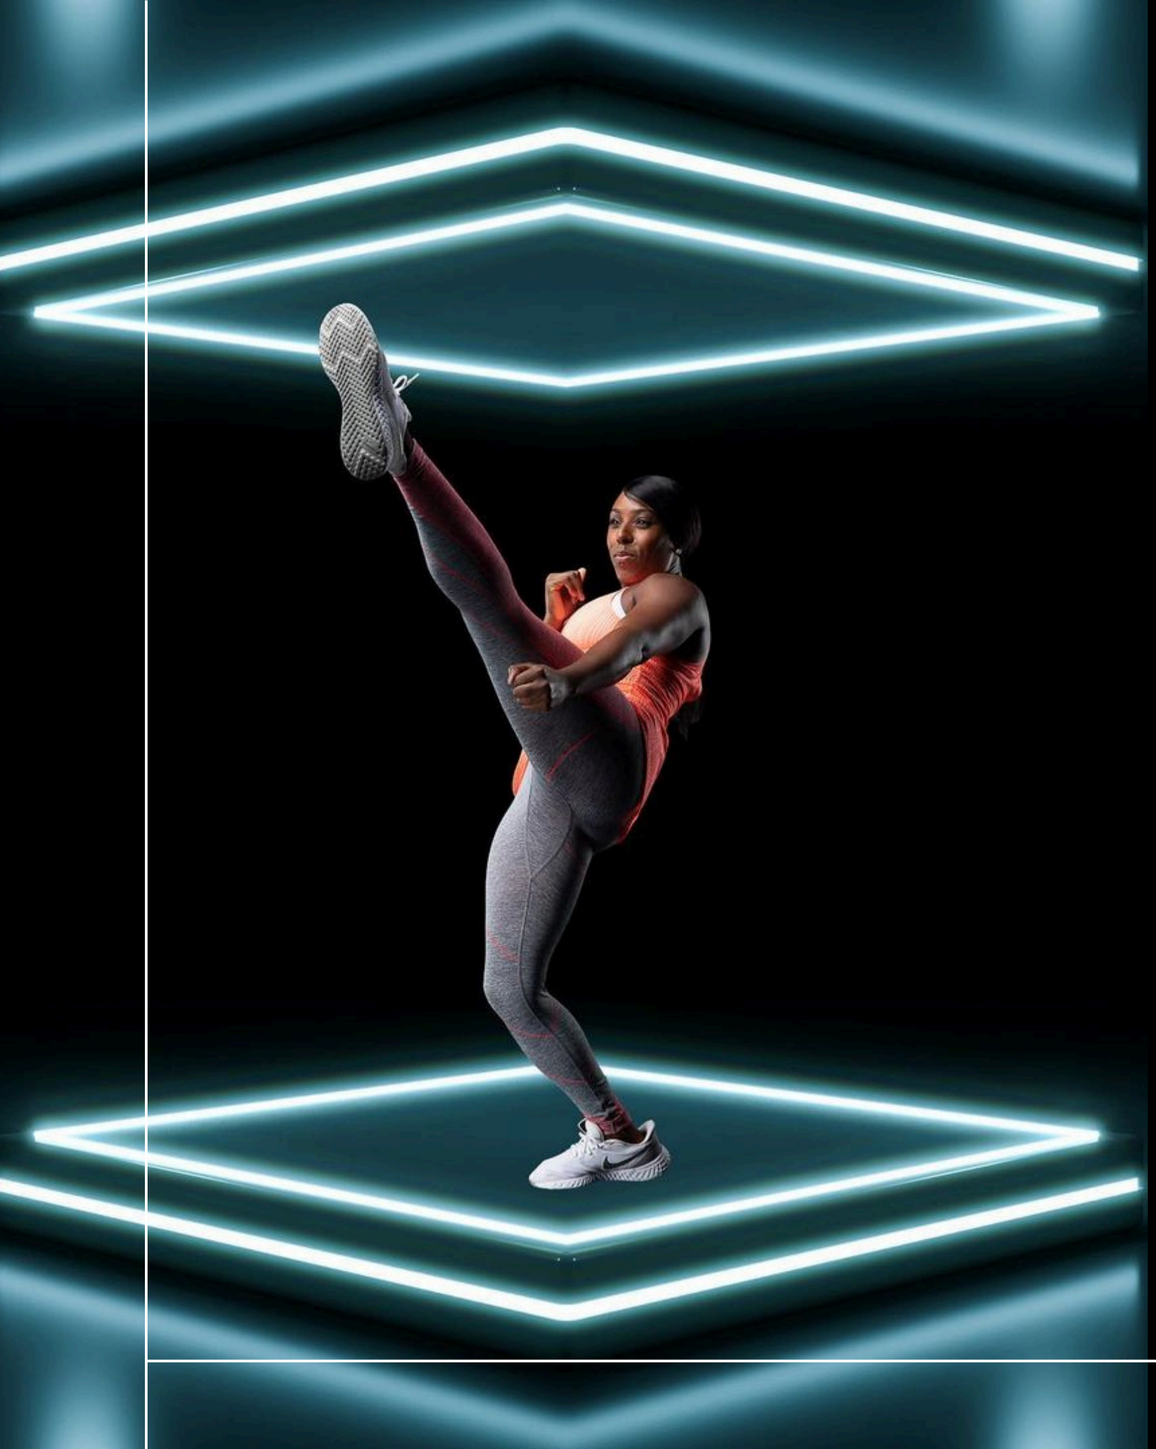
FAYE EDWARDS

VALUE PROPOSITION



BRAND STORY

International Fitness Presenter and Celebrity Trainer, Faye Edwards, is an innovative wellbeing expert and the founder of F.I.T (Faye's Intentional Training).

With a wide array of F.I.T concepts, including F.I.T Jam, F.I.T Combat, F.I.T Flow and mindfulness sessions, Faye has designed programmes that are playful, engaging and accessible to all levels and abilities.

Through fitness events, retreats and Faye's Intentional Training app, Faye inspires countless people to embrace a healthier, happier lifestyle, proving that fitness can be fun, empowering and transformative.

Faye's ethos is to do what brings you joy, take away the pressure or need for perfection and just...

FOCUS ON THE FEELING.

BRAND ATTRIBUTES

Empowering

F.I.T is rooted in uplifting and inspiring people so they feel stronger - physically and mentally. The motivation and consistency needed for fitness come from knowing that you can do anything you put your mind to and F.I.T helps people develop that mindset.

Supportive

F.I.T is about building an inclusive and welcoming community where everyone feels understood and encouraged to do their best. There is no one-size-fits-all which is why F.I.T has different concepts to appeal to the needs and abilities of different people.

Joyful

F.I.T is all about being playful and embracing your inner child. Children have no fear and are in a constant state of play that brings them peace and happiness. We shouldn't lose this feeling in adulthood and F.I.T is a space that encourages people to tap into that child-like state and unlock that good feeling.

BRAND VALUES

To create a safe space for everyone

F.I.T values inclusivity, diversity and equality. It wants people to feel safe and welcome regardless of their background, capabilities or goals.

To encourage people to embrace their authentic selves

F.I.T values authenticity and strives to bring out the best in every person that engages with it.

To promote positive mental and physical wellbeing

F.I.T values positivity and centres its message around bettering the physical and mental health of others.

TONE OF VOICE

Uplifting

Use positive language and messaging centred on hope, optimism and encouragement. Focus on how people will feel and not on aesthetics or achieving physical goals.

Friendly

Use casual and conversational language as though talking to close friends. F.I.T is an approachable brand that speaks on the same level as its clients.

Enthusiastic

Use language that evokes the same playfulness and energy that people experience at events and classes. Show excitement, passion and authenticity at all times.

COMPETITOR ANALYSIS

Funkee Fitness

Funkess Fitness delivers a range of group exercise to music classes led by International Instructor, Kyle Murray.
His classes are fun, high-energy and aimed at over 30s who want to supplement their gym training with a class or find a new hobby in their local community.

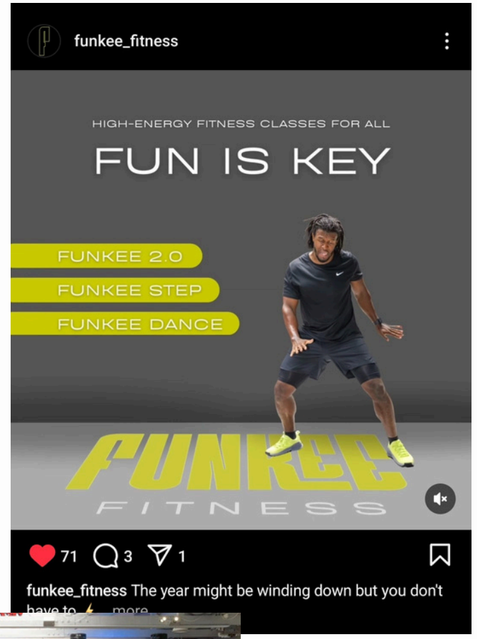
COMPETITOR ANALYSIS

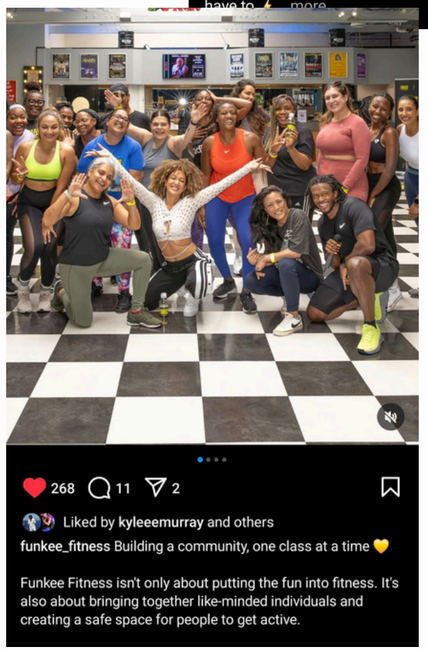
Funkee Fitness

Funkee Fitness showcases its personality and community-building value through sharing video snippets and photos of classes and events.

The focus is always on the people, the atmosphere and the benefits - never pushing ‘fitness’ but always ‘good vibes’, ‘safe space’ and ‘staying active’

There is consistency in its colours and tone of voice which makes it clear who these classes are for and provides a clear sense of what to expect from a Funkee FItness class.





COMPETITOR ANALYSIS

Owning your menopause

Owning your menopause is an online community for women aged 40+. They offer an online platform with workouts, nutritional advice, webinars and more.

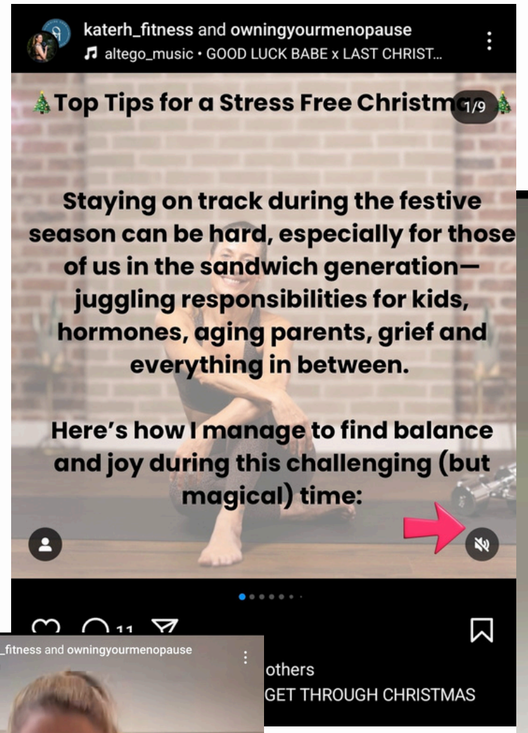
The brand feels very soft, approachable, professional and clean with a focus on education and supporting a community.

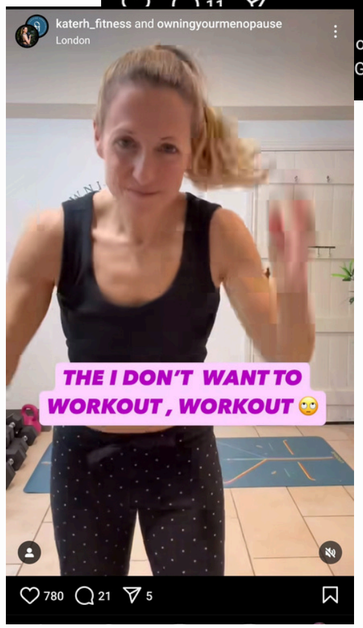
COMPETITOR ANALYSIS

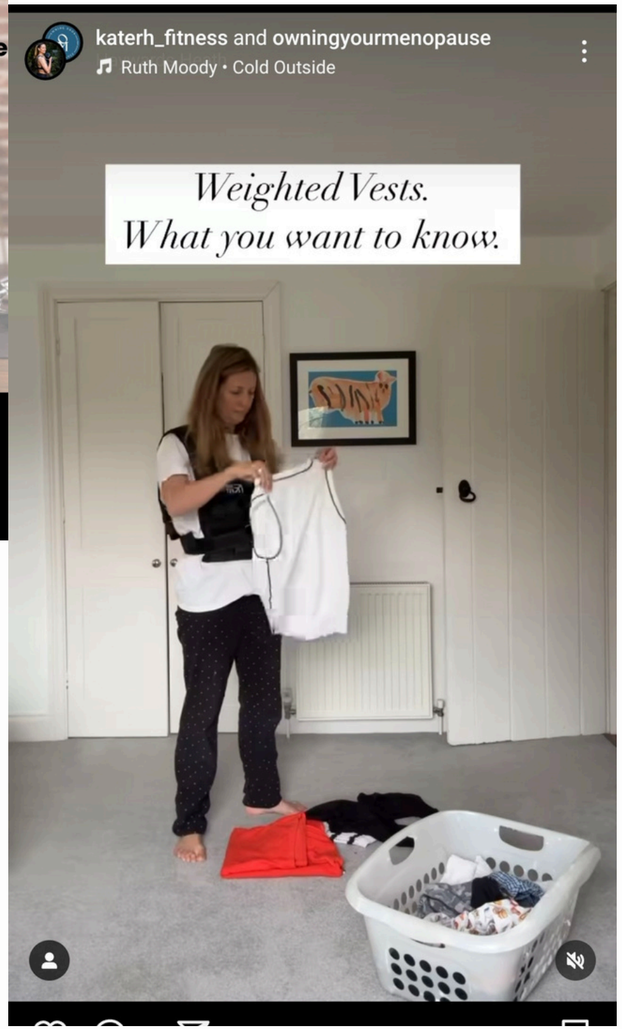
Owning your menopause

Owning your menopause shares content that feels authentic and not highly edited. The focus is on sharing valuable information and highlighting Kate (who puts herself in the forefront of the brand), rather than clean and fancy visuals.

This works for her very specific target audience and aligns with her simple and professional brand identity.







COMPETITOR ANALYSIS

Movement is medicine

Movement is medicine delivers music-led training, classes and events that are all about moving your body in different ways.

The brand is big and bold mainly rooted in black and white but with pops of colour to capture the fun and freeness of their products.

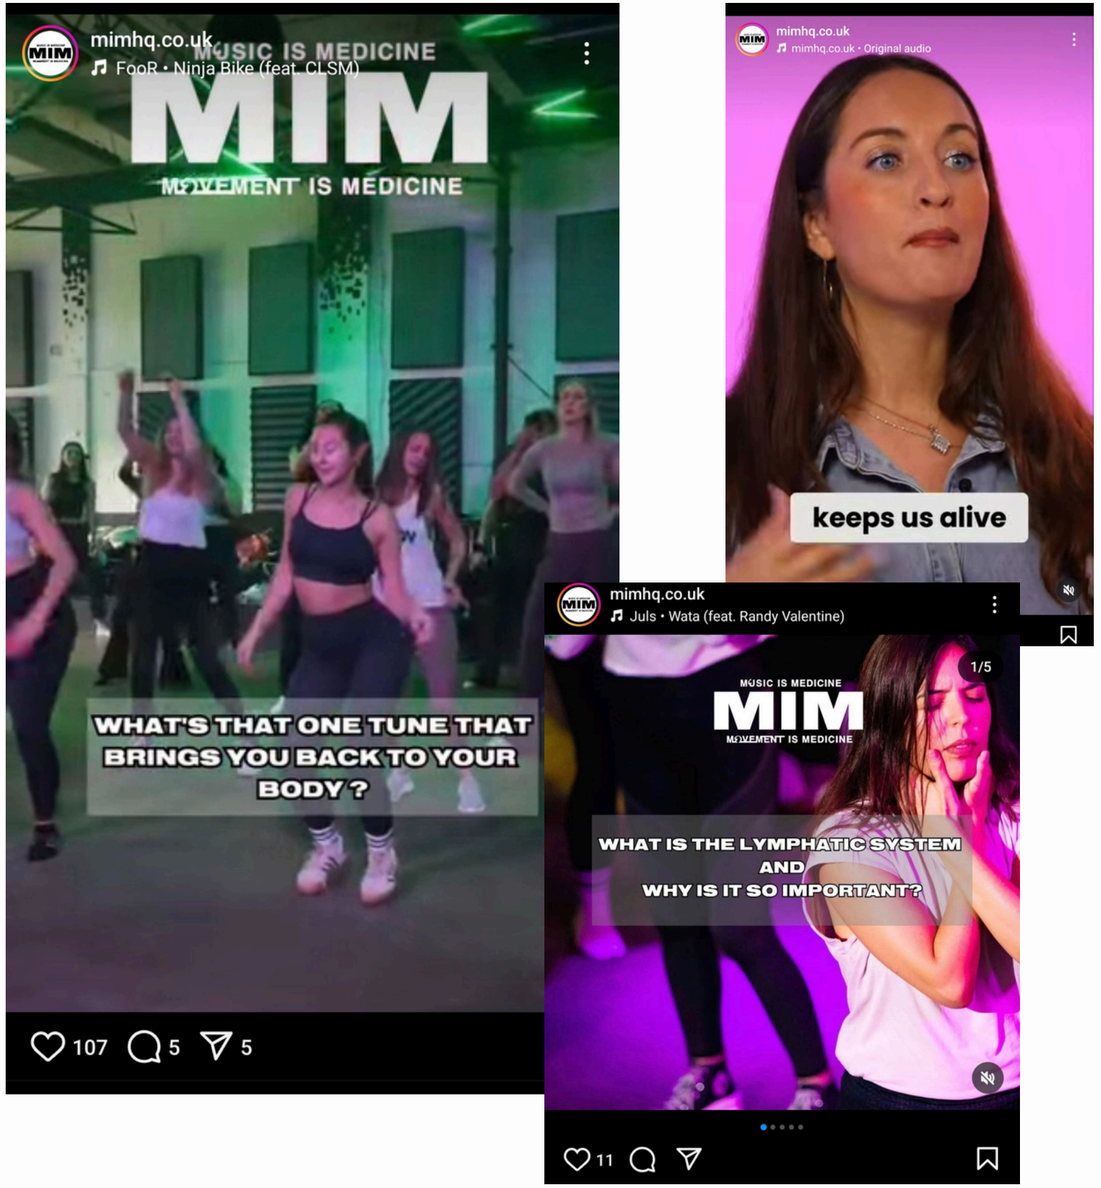
COMPETITOR ANALYSIS

Movement is medicince

Their content aligns with their brand well because of the consistency in their font and colours so they have created a distinct identity.

They share a range of content from videos with professionals talking directly to the camera to educational carousel posts with images.

They present themselves as fun, well-informed and young.



Thank you!
